

The culture of teamwork and mutual support is evident.

The school is highly inclusive and seeks to meet the needs of all learners.

The school wants every one of the pupils to flourish and staff work closely to identify pupil's motivation and celebrate that.

Teachers and teaching assistants display energy and passion for learning.

The pronounced emphasis on nurture and high expectations helps establish a safe and secure school environment. Staff play a highly positive role in creating an ethos in which tolerance and diversity are celebrated.

The EYFS Lead has confidently developed the curriculum using the EYFS framework.

Pupils are immensely proud of the school.

They have implemented an ambitious curriculum with equality of opportunity at the heart of all the activities pupil can access.

Consistent approaches are used to support phonics and early reading.

The school provides outstanding ELSA support.

To excellence and beyond

Attitudes to learning are exemplary. High levels of engagement are the norm because teachers engender a thirst for learning in their pupils and they plan interesting lessons that captivate pupils.

The phonics scheme is embedded and children and staff are confident with the structure.

A structured and consistently applied behaviour ladder ensures all members of the school community work together to achieve a safe and nurturing environment.

The drive to make a real and lasting difference to all pupil's achievements through quality teaching is also a tangible feature of the school's ethos.

Pupil numbers are high, and the school remains a popular local choice within a borough with falling birth rates.

The provision for reception pupils is well delivered to ensure readiness for school and the early implementation of support for children and families.

The atmosphere in school is industrious and focused on improving pupils' outcomes.